

Write the World's YA Friendship Picks

Code Named Verity Elizabeth Wein

A British spy plane crashes and the pilot and passenger—two best friends, Verity and Maddie—are separated in Nazi-occupied France.

Find this book at your local library.

The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian Sherman Alexie

Junior leaves the Spokane Reservation to attend an all-white school, where a new social life might cost him his oldest friend back home.

Find this book at your local library.

A Separate Peace John Knowles

While World War II rages in the background, two friends—Gene and Phineas—are forced to grow up when tragedy strikes close to home.

Find this book at your local library.

The Outsiders S.E. Hinton

Friendships are put to the test as Ponyboy grows up and faces challenges he never expected. Find this book at your local library.

Let's Get Lost Adi Alsaid

Four strangers with one thing in common: a friend named Leila. Find this book at your local library.

Anne of Green Gables
L.M. Montgomery

Anne, an orphan sent to the wrong family, finds her way in the Prince Edward Island community, with the help of her best friend Diana.

Find this book at your local library.

Their Eyes Were Watching God
Zora Neale Hurston

Janie tells her life story—full of tragedy and love—to her best friend and confidant Pheoby.

Find this book at your local library.

All This Could End
Steph Bowe

The chaotic, on-the-run lifestyle of Nina's family means she's changed schools dozens of times. But now she's made a friend she's intent on keeping.

Find this book at your local library.